

ENLISTS CO-OPERATION OF STATE OFFICIALS

Bureau of Animal Industry Plans Vigorous Fight on Foot and Mouth Disease.

SITUATION UNDER CONTROL

Cattle Quarantine Covers Ten States.
Despite Wide Area Affected, No
Immediate Effect on Meat Prices to Consumer Is Looked For.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—Officials of the Bureau of Animal Industry today enlisted the co-operation of State officials in the fight to stamp out the epidemic of foot and mouth disease which has resulted in a cattle quarantine covering ten States. With strict maintenance of the quarantine, immediate destruction of all infected herds and close inspection of all suspected centres, the bureau believes it now has the situation under control.

Practically every shipment of cattle which passed through the Chicago stockyards during the past sixty days is being traced by inspectors, and infected herds are being destroyed.

State officials in the States affected by the Federal quarantine have joined the Federal agents in their fight to eradicate the disease. Under the plans of the department, State officials will establish local quarantine in States now cut off from interstate shipment, in order to localize the infected territory as narrowly as possible.

Despite the wide area affected by the Federal quarantine, no immediate effect on meat prices to the consumer is looked for. A plentiful supply of dressed meat and of cattle outside of the quarantined States is expected to prevent any considerable rise.

RISE IN MEAT PRICES NOT NOW JUSTIFIED

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WASHINGTON, November 7.—Arbitrary increases in the prices of meat are unjustified by the foot and mouth disease, in the opinion of Dr. J. R. Mohler, assistant chief of the United States Bureau of Animal Husbandry, and chief of its pathology division. He says it is impossible to estimate how long it will be before conditions justify an increase in prices, but declares that right now the available supply should be increased instead of diminished, as farmers in districts not yet quarantined will rush their stock to the killing pens, rather than take a chance of losing the animals through infection.

WHOLESALE MEAT PRICES TAKE LEAP IN NEW YORK

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEW YORK, November 7.—Wholesale meat prices took another leap upward today, and it is prophesied that further increases will accompany the opening of business on Monday. Beef of the quality that sold on Monday for 16 cents was quoted at 18 1/2 cents. Lamb jumped from 13 1/2 cents on Monday to 15 1/2 to 16 cents. Pork went from 14 to 15 cents, and mutton 10 1/2 to 12 cents last Monday, was quoted at 14 cents today. The increases are attributed to the foot and mouth disease quarantines in different States. The only slaughter-houses so far closed in New York are those at Sixtieth Street and the North River, which kill only sheep and lambs, while the authorities fear the animals now in the pens may have eaten straw or hay infected by other animals suffering from the disease.

MINES VALUED AT $3,750,000 PASS TO JOHN S. JONES

Entry by Judges in Suit Brought by Government Against New York
Central and O. & O.

CINCINNATI, November 7.—Stock in Ohio and West Virginia coal mines, valued at $3,750,000, passed into the hands of John S. Jones, a Chicago coal operator, today as a result of an entry made by three Federal judges here in a suit brought by the government against the New York Central and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Companies, their subsidiaries and various coal companies they control.

The case was brought under the Sherman law and Federal officials declared it was the most sweeping victory ever accomplished under the act. The case has been known as the "East Ohio and West Virginia bituminous coal case."

Attorneys for both the railroads and the government appeared before the court today with an agreement that the properties of the railroads be disintegrated and ownership dissolved. The entry was made, the price fixed at $3,750,000, and a short time later Jones appeared in court and took over the stock.

In buying the stock, Jones, the purchaser, assumed the responsibility for the incumbrances on the land, which are said to run into millions of dollars.

FRIENDLY SUIT ENTERED BY CITY AGAINST SOUTHERN

Court Order Necessary to Confirm Agreement as to Widening Fourteenth Street.

Friendly suit was entered in the Hustings Court yesterday by the city of Richmond against the Southern Railway Company to acquire from the railroad company by condemnation proceedings a strip of land to widen Fourteenth Street between Cary Street and Mayo's Bridge. The strip to be acquired is sixty feet wide from Cary Street to the canal, and eighty feet wide from the canal to the bridge.

In return for the acquisition of this property, the city will permit the Southern Railway Company to move its tracks at this point a few feet west, so as to permit of the switching of freight cars into the spur track extending into Virginia Street. The Southern Railway Company will also acquire rights on the south side of the river, where it will have a double-track crossing on the southern approach to the bridge, and extend a spur track to east of Hull Street. The company will also be permitted to erect a combination freight and passenger station, with an overhanging hungalow roof.

There was some difficulty at first between the city and the railway company as to the dedication of the property in question, and it remained for President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway, to effect a compromise agreement, under which the city gained its point without harm or inconvenience to the railway company.

Theodore Chosen President.
PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI, November 7.—Davilmar Theodore, leader of the recent successful rebellion against President Zamor, today was elected president of the Haitian Republic by Congress. The city is calm.

ART CLUB WILL EXHIBIT PAINTINGS BY SHEPPARD

Widely-Known Richmond Artist Was as Famous for Brush as in Sculpture.

Preparations are being made at the Richmond Art Club to show a number of important paintings by William L. Sheppard. The exhibit will open Tuesday, and will continue until December 1.

Mr. Sheppard was better known to the Richmond public as a sculptor, but was equally talented with the brush, and in these pictures, both oils and water colors, the wide variety of his work is shown.

A very fine canvas of William Byrd, the original of which is at Brandon, is one of the show pieces of the exhibit, and ranks with a copy of Gilbert Stuart's "Washington." No cataloging has been done as yet, but the committee will have everything in readiness by the opening day, with the assistance of Mrs. Sheppard, who has loaned the pictures. Among his earlier paintings are some excellent studies of Latin types. The head of an Italian woman, no longer young, is most attractive. The head of a Patriarch, done during Mr. Sheppard's days spent in the Latin Quarter in Paris, is a strong bit of work.

It was during his student days that he was recalled to defend his beloved home during the War Between the States, so his soldiers' and sailors' Monument, so familiar to Richmonders and visitors as well, was inspired by standing shoulder to shoulder with those in the trenches. Other Sheppard statues in Richmond include The Howitzer, the General William Smith, and the A. P. Hill Monument on Hermitage Road.
